For Year 1 - I would like them to consider what is inside the bodies of animals real or imagined in our story books. What does the skeleton look like and what about the internal organs too? Want a challenge? What about the nervous system and the brain: pathways down the spine and out to the sensory points that sense pain, heat or cold.